Is Cannabidiol the Long Lost Key to Wellness & Pain? If you were to ask many scientists, a resounding “YES” would likely be the answer. Cannabidiol is being scientifically studied and proven to successfully treat many diseases by affecting our own endocannabinoid system of the brain, which is the regulatory system of the body that maintains homeostasis (internal stability) in the other systems. Diseases and disorders including epilepsy, Parkinson’s, neuropathy, diabetes, chronic pain, MS, PTSD, and many more are responding greatly to treatments involving cannabidiol oil and other cannabinoids.
